

Meet our Doctors!

Dr. Lemons is a 1998 graduate of Colorado State University. After working for several years in Texas, she returned to Colorado in 2001 and has been at Teller Park Veterinary Service since that time. Dr. Lemons especially enjoys surgery, advanced dental work and equine practice. She has recently completed advanced training in dental procedure skills including surgical extractions, bonded sealant application and treatment of periodontal disease. As veterinarians are prone to doing, Dr. Lemons has accumulated a number of dogs, cats, and horses throughout her career. She enjoys showing and training in dressage, snowboarding and the great Colorado outdoors.

Dr. Bowman was born and raised on a farm in southwestern Iowa. She attended the University of Missouri-Columbia and Oregon State University for her undergraduate studies, and then graduated in 2007 from Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Bowman especially enjoys small animal medicine and surgery. She and her husband, Dave, are looking forward to enjoying the Colorado mountains with their children, Layney and Evan, and their collection of pets; Aja, an American Bulldog, Orco, a Lab mix, two cats, Worm and Avaca, and one guinea pig, Spike. In her free time she enjoys spending time with family, traveling, and tagging along with her husband on his off-road adventures.

85% Of all dogs over one year of age have some degree of periodontal disease, but only 3% get treated!

Dental care for your pet is a highly important aspect in your animal's overall health. Imagine what your teeth would look like if you did not brush them everyday, or only went to visit the dentist once every 4 years! Gum disease is one of the most common conditions seen by veterinarians today. Unfortunately, our pets will never indicate to their owners when they are in pain or when they have problems concerning their gums/teeth. Because our animals cannot tell us of the pain they are experiencing, it is up to our veterinarians to check for these problems in our pet's annual physical exam.

Our staff has studied advanced dental medicine beyond any required training, so that we can now provide dental radiographs, bonded sealant for fractured teeth, and periodontal surgery to enhance your pets overall health. If you have any concerns or questions regarding your pets oral health, do not hesitate to ask us.
